Passing Events of the Day on the West Side of the City Noted.

A SPLENDID ENTERTAINMENT

It Was Given at Mears' Hall by Young Ladies of the Washburn Street Presbyterian Sunday Sunday School. Other Events of the Day.

One of the grandest productions in the line of an entertainment ever presented on this side was that of Class No. 24 of the Washburn Street Presbyterian church, taught by Mrs. E. D. Fellows, in Mears' hall last evening. The affair opened at 8 o'clock with an overture by Bauer's orchestra, The stage settings were superb. It was converted into a thing of beauty by means of silk draperies, curtains, plane and parlor lamps, which were gratutiously furnished by Kerr & Slebecker In addition to these were numerous palms and ferns. The overture was followed with a vocal duet by the Misses Grace and Anna Rose. They responded to an encore with another sweet selection. An interesting dialogue entitled "All on Account of a Bracelet," followed. It was presented by the following charac-Louise Osgood, banker's wife, Miss Mabel Yost; Arabella Pfimrose, seamstress, Miss Bertha Powell; maid, All the Popular New Books, banker, Miss Ella Williams; Harry Osgood, banker, Miss Helen Mott; August, clerk at Tiffany's, Miss Margaret Edwards, The young ladies were loudly applauded. A selection was then rendered by

Bauer's orchestra. Some very grand productions enti-tied, "The Living Pictures," were then given. The first was "Joan d'Arc," represented by Miss Mabel Yost; "The Mandolin Girl," by Miss Margaret Edwards, was excellent. Misses Grace Walker, Maud Vipond, Nellie Jones and Gertie Becker was Walker, Maud Vipond, Nellie Jones and Gertie Becker were the quartette that presented the next of the living pictures, entitle, "Women at the Tomb." Miss Becker represented the angel in the scene. Miss Ella Williams gave a presentation entitled, "The Greek Girl." After another selection by the orchestra, "The Singing School" was presented by seven members of the class. They were attired in blue gowns with white caps. This feature received much applause. "The Vision of St white caps. This feature received much applause, "The Vision of St. Angela" was next produced. The char-Angela" was next produced. The char-acters were: Miss Bertha Powell, as the receiving angel, and Miss Dalsy Poole as the one to be received. This can well be termed the feature of the evening. Miss Bertha Jenkins, as "The Swedish Girl," was excellent. Misses Helen Mott, May Belle Sweetzer and Myrtle Fraunfelter were the characters in "The Stolen Kiss. This ended the "The Stolen Kiss. in "The Stolen Kiss. This ended the series of living pictures, and it was followed with a piano solo by Miss Daisy Poole. Miss Bertha Powell, an eloqutionist of much ability, gave a recitation entitle, "Virginius." It was remarkable for grace and expression. A solo was rendered by Mrs. Wendling Davis, after which the whole class sang "Broadway Belles." The affair throughout was a grand success and the members of the class wish to and the members of the class wish to and the members of the class wish to extend their hearty thanks to Kerr & Seebecker; Wheeler & Davis, florists; Joseph A. ### NEWS OF THE SOUTH SIDE

Serious Accident to William C. Klein at the Woolen Mill Yesterday.

He Was Riding on the Elevator and Was Caught Between the Carriage and the Sides of the Shaft-Interesting Foot Ball Game.

Anaccident, very painful and quite serious, happened to William C. Klein at the woolen mills yesterday morning at 10 o'clock. The young man is the 20year-old son of Hotelkeeper Christ Klein, of Pittston avenue, and is employed as foreman in the shipping department.

Whileriding on the elevator in a manner which he fails to account for himself his right arm was caught between the carriage and the side of the elevator shaft, and the flesh was terribly lacerated from the forearm to the shoulder blade. The fleshy part of the forearm was the most injured, the physicians being required to cut out several of the small muscles. Drs. Connell, Manly and Welsh attended him and had to employ ether to quiet him while dressing and bandaging the wounds. It took eighteen stitches to sew up the lacerated flesh.

The physicians do not believe that his arm will be disabled; it may, however, be impaired to some extent. The biceps muscle was not injured, and that being the most important one of the arm, the permanent disability is not apt to amount to much.

Polish Rally Tonight. The Polish citizens of the South Side will hold a rally tonight at Natter's hall on Alder street. Besides a few of the local Democratic spellbinders who will make speeches, there will be two free trade orators from abroad, John Seraphine, of Philadelphia, and W. Bernolak, of Baltimore. The addresses Seraphine, of Philadelphia, and W. Bernolak, of Baltimore. The addresses will be delivered in the Polish tongue, except what campaign promises the candidates, who will be there in full force, will make. But the Polish citizens are wise enough not to allow any specious political arguments to wheedle them in opposition to the party of protection to American industries. Rushers Win a Game. The Rushers of this side played a game of foot ball yesterday afternoon on the James Boys' grounds with the foot ball team of Wood's Business college and won by the score of 2 to 0. The game was won on a safety. It was a desperately fought game and proved that the two teams are evenly matched. Professor Kramer, of Wood's Business college, umpired the game. Brown, of the Rushers, was injured.

Charles Allen, who was severely injured by falling off a breaker in Pittston a few days ago, has been taken to the Moses Taylor hospital.

A. P. McDonough is building a new porch to his house on Delahar in the control of the Rushers, was injured. His ankle getting sprained. Robinson, of the Rushers, was injured. The teams have arranged for another game next week.

South Side Jottings. Mr. and Mrs. John Brobson, of Genet street, are visiting Pittston friends. The Star Dancing class will meet next Thursday night at Workingman's

Company A, Patriotic Guards, met last night and conducted an interesting meeting. The usual Sunday exercises at the rooms of the Young Women's Christian association tomorrow afternoon will begin at 3.45. A fine programme will be presented.

Mr. and Mrs. James Keating have moved into and taken possession of their elegantly furnished and well ap-pointed new home on Stone avenue, near Fig street. The Central Pennsylvania Telephone company painters are engaged on this side administering a coat of green paint to the polls in compliance wth a cit to the polls in compliance with a city ordnance providing for such.

The building going up on Pittston avenue at the corner of Elm street, which will be the home of the Scranton Weekly, the Polish newspaper edited by Father Aust, is nearing completion, and the upper floor will be set aside as a hall for meeting purpeses.
